Division Of Thiokol Here Will Merge

Thiokol Chemical Corporation is going to merge its Bristol Division operations with its Elkton, Md., division, the Courier-Times learned today.

An announcement was expected to be made late today by Dr. H. W. Ritchey, Thiokol president, regarding the consolidation for what a company spokesman termed "more efficient operations."

J. W. Wiggins, vice president, today said the merger of the two divisions is "an organizational change" and that it would not have a marked effect on employment at the Bristol Township plant.

Depends On Future

He did point out that the status of employees in the Bristol Division would depend on future business and the possible reduction of operational costs.

Thiokol's reaction motors production has been in a "phasing out" program since the first of the year. By June 1, Wiggins pointed out, all reaction motors production will be finished at the Thiokol plant here and future production will continue at the Denville, N. J., plant.

Phasing out of the reaction motors production here means the laying off of about 300 Thiokol employees between January and June.

In addition to the Bristol Division, which will become the Elkton Division under the merger, (Continued on Page 4, Col. 4)

Good Evening!

New York World's Fair reopens today with a flourish.

A great day for it and a great summer it should be for Bob Moses' super spectacular. You going to be one of the 37 million folks expected to case the exposition before the season is done?

A somewhat exquisite day of mellow skies and tomorrow they're to be more inviting. We've been working on this thing for a couple of weeks now.

And when our neighboring farmer Arthur Stackhouse puts his cows out to pasture and when newly fashioned mockingbird and robins' nests start infiltrating the evergreens and the hedge-rows, we know we've got it made.

Seventh heaven for the trout fishermen — all sizes, all ages, all sexes.

From what we gather, however, it's the same perennial problem: more disciples of Izaak Walton than there are the speckled beauties.

That was a close one last night — and long — as the Phils finally edged the Astros 2-1 in the 13th.

And with the ageless Warren Spahn pitching the lowly Mets to a 3-2 win over the Dodgers, we're in a three-way tie for second place. Mauch could make it three in a row tonight.

Rest of the world perking along pretty much as usual. We've still got a war, we've still got the racial tensions, we've still got the Philadelphia crime wave, and we've still got the Levittown and Millcreek Parkways which we hope won't be victimized again this year by the dandelions.

Money may not make a fellow happy, but it keeps his creditors in a better frame of mind.

Delegate, the morning after the convention: "Quiet! And make that fool cat quit stamping on the rug."

Children should be careful of what they say. Parents are always repeating what they're hearing.

NEWARK (UPI) — A 39-year-old woman and seven of her children died last night when a car in which they were passengers went out of control and collided head-on with a tractor trailer.

Five other persons were injured in the accident on U.S. Route 1 near the Newark Airport.

The dead were identified as Mrs. Ann Dora Sherod, and her children, Marina, 18, Anna Jean, 16, Jessie Lee, 15, James Arthur, 14, Joe Nathan, 8, Wanda, 4, and Kathy, 3.

James died in a hospital several hours after the accident. The others were dead at the scene or died shortly after reaching a hospital.

Police said the father of the children, Arthur Sherod, 37, of Jersey City, was driving the car when it swerved from the far right lane, crossed three divider strips and smashed diagonally into the tractor-trailer which was moving in the opposite direction.

Sherod and two other children, Diane, 5, and Charles, 9, were taken to city hospital in serious condition.

Wilmer A. Martin, 33, Gastonia, N.C., driver of the tractor-trailer, and his assistant, James C. Turner Jr., 35, Concord, N.C., were admitted to Beth Israel Hospital, both suffering from shock and injuries.

REVEALED AT INDUSTRIAL FETE

Bristol Twp. To Get Gulf Oil Warehouse

By SCOOP LEWIS
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Bristol Township's Industrial Development Council today kicked off its second anniversary luncheon with the announcement that the Gulf Oil Corporation will lease a new warehouse facility to be built on Route 13, near Green Lane.

Announcement that ground will be broken May 1 for the 150,000 - square-foot, one-story building was made jointly by George Ashworth, chairman of the township industrial council and William Abbott, executive director of the Bucks County Industrial Development Corporation.

The township council also unveiled its industrial development brochure at a luncheon meeting in the Cavalier Room of the Patio Lounge (formerly Cavalier Lounge) on Route 13 and Beaver Dam Road.

John Curtin Jr., deputy secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry, was guest speaker at the noon luncheon.

By Late October

An award of achievement was presented to Larry Hoban, plant manager of R. C. Can Co. in recognition of Bristol Township's "fastest growing industrial concern." The award from the township board of commissioners was presented by James N. Kline, board president, and Ronald Z. Zweig, township manager.

The new Gulf facility, expected to be completed by late October, will be built on 10 acres of land adjacent to the R. C. Can Co. plant. The land was acquired from the Pennsylvania Railroad which will provide a siding for unloading facilities at the building.

50 Employees

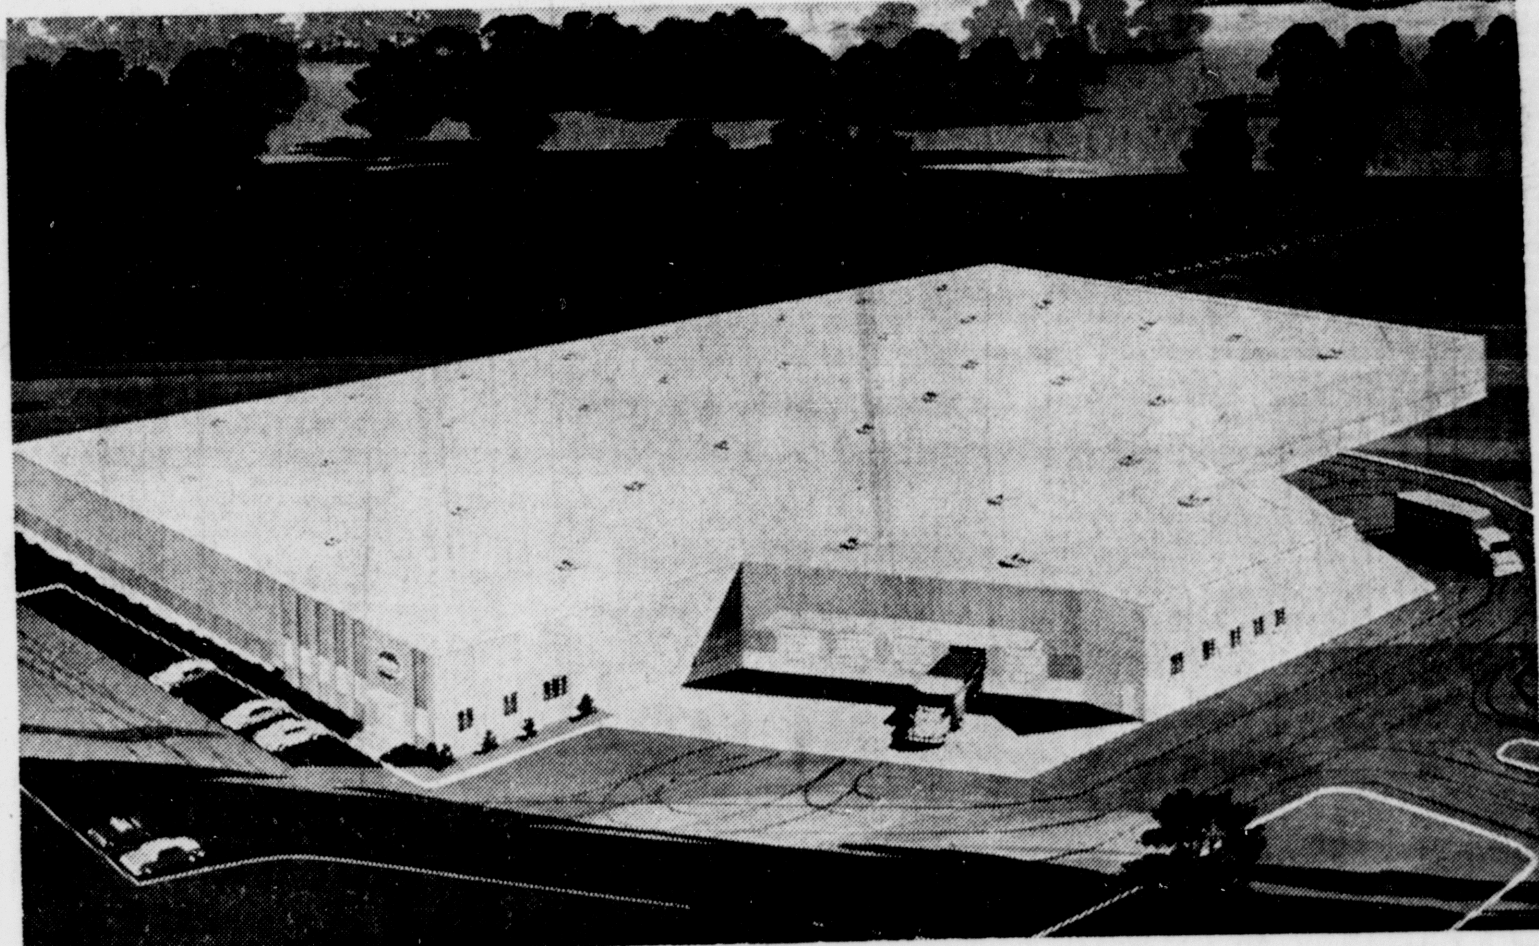

Gulf plans to have 50 employees man the facility with the workers being transferred from existing Gulf installations in the 13-state area.

Ashworth disclosed that Gulf will install the latest materials handling equipment in the warehouse with inventory control, order processing and billing to be handled by the latest in modern computer systems.

Gulf also will install and operate a gasoline dispensing pump repair shop in the building.

For Gulf, this new facility will be part of a complex of such warehouses the company has contracted for in Atlanta, Ga., and Dallas, Texas, to service its growing TBA markets in the United States.

'Favorable Ruling' On Union's Appeal

Former Kaiser Employees May Get $1,000,000 Tax Windfall

By SCOOP LEWIS
Courier-Times Staff Writer

A $1,000,000 windfall may soon be coming for the 1,200 former Kaiser employees who two years ago had to pay income taxes on pensions and special annuities they received after the Bristol plant closed down.

Frank F. Flatch, president of Bucks County AFL-CIO Council, today disclosed that a "favorable ruling" has been received from Internal Revenue Service regarding the union's appeal of the capital gain deductions.

When the former Kaiser employees received their annuities, ranging from $750 to $6,000, in 1963, they had to declare the money as "straight income" and not "capital gain," Flatch stated.

Flatch, who also is president of Local 181, United Auto Workers (UAW), said the IRS decision was protested through UAW headquarters in Washington. Kaiser employees had been members of Local 130, UAW.

Flatch, a former Kaiser worker, was used as the UAW's test case in appealing the IRS decision.

Today, Flatch received word from Arnold, Fortas and Porter, UAW legal counsel in Washington, that the IRS has rendered a ruling which declares the money received by the Kaiser employees should have been deductible as capital gain.

$2,500 Average

Flatch estimated that the average amount of annuities received by a Kaiser employee was $2,500. When filing their 1963 income tax forms, the former employees had to list the annuity as straight income. If it had been listed as capital gain, they would have declared only about half of what they received.

As a result of the IRS ruling, the 1,250 employees soon will be able to file for refunds from Uncle Sam for the other half of the money which they paid as taxes in 1963.

Flatch today said he expects official word from the IRS "within a few days."

McNamara Says

S. Viet Nam Aid To Be Hiked 50%

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced today that military aid for South Viet Nam will be increased from $207 million to $330 million in the present fiscal year.

He made the announcement as he left a White House meeting at which he reported to President Johnson on his trip to Honolulu and conferences there with top strategists on the Viet Nam situation.

McNamara said that U.S. attacks on North Viet Nam have slowly but not stopped Viet Cong infiltration into South Viet Nam. He also said they have been damaging morale of the Viet Cong forces.

McNamara indicated that what he called the very substantial increase in military aid for South Viet Nam will go into such things as helicopters and firepower.

The primary purpose of the Honolulu meeting, he said, was (Continued on Page 4, Col. 4)

Bodley Predicts Annex For Courthouse

Bucks County Commissioner J. Justus Bodley, speaking informally in his office in the courthouse this week, said: "Maybe, five or 10 years from now there will be an annex to the courthouse on the present borough elementary school site."

Located at the corner of East Court and Broad Sts., across the street from the Administration Building and the Melinda

Cox Free Library, the school grounds have been "eyed" for years as an ideal county annex.

"Naturally," said Chairman Bodley, "the two school buildings would have to be razed. The price, a fair price, is the only thing that keeps us apart now."

Parking Site

Chairman Bodley, who attended grade, junior and senior high school and starred in sports in the present schoolhouses, said "The site could be used for parking until the time comes to build an annex."

"As everyone knows who is in the administration building now, we are crowded. Within the next five or 10 years, we'll be really crowded and need space to expand."

Membership Drive Opens

LPRA Swimming Fee To Stay At $20

The family fee for the Levittown Public Recreation Association will remain at $20 for the 1965-66 year, Robert L. Whitman, administrator, announced today.

If paid after June 12, Whitman said, the family fee will be $25, the same as it has been for the last four years.

The LPRA is beginning its annual family membership drive.

Applications for membership are now being mailed to each Levittown home. The membership includes the use of any of the five Olympic size pools, participation in the summer and winter programs in the community hall, and a variety of pool oriented skill programs.

Weekend Basis

Two pools, Pinewood and Country Club, will open on a weekend basis on Memorial Day weekend, May 29 - 31, and then on June 6 and 7. All pools will open on a regular schedule on June 12.

Whitman said, "We have extended the cutoff date for the increased fee to as late a date as we have ever had and we trust the families will take advantage of this discount period to avoid the increased rate."

Swimming instruction classes will be offered in two - week segments beginning June 21. Registration for these classes will be done at the pool where the lessons are desired.

Swimming Meets

Competitive swimming meets will continue to be on an inter-pool basis. Water polo, synchronized swimming and water pageants will round out the planned pool program for the summer.

Junior and Senior basketball leagues, outdoor movies at each pool location, and a day and evening playground program will be available to members.

"We certainly hope that a great number of families will take advantage of the program made available to them," Whitman said.

Bucks Communities Warned On Health Responsibilities

A New Jersey Health officer warned a group of Bucks County citizens last night that if local communities don't face up to their responsibilities, local health services will be taken over by the government.

The warning came from Dr. Jesse B. Aronson, director, Division of Local Health Services, New Jersey State Department of Health, who was guest speaker at the 45th annual meeting of the Bucks County Tuberculosis and Health Society.

Dr. Aronson, a consultant for the county's recent community health study, addressed 75 persons at the Cross Keys Inn, Doylestown.

Outbreak "Unnecessary"

"Unless we preserve our voluntary system," the physician said, "we are surely in for a bad time . . . a real degeneration of health services."

Dr. Aronson said that the outbreak of St. Louis encephalitis in his state was "totally unnecessary." He blamed the outbreak on the lack of health planning between local municipalities.

Dr. Aronson said that the duplication of equipment and services by hospitals in adjoining cities and suburban communities is resulting in an additional cost to the community.

4 Counties In State

"Without effective planning for integration of services, we are pricing ourselves out of the health market," the doctor said.

He lauded Bucks County as one of four counties in the state having its own health department.

He cited the role the department was playing in local health studies.

"Only the citizens can determine the future of health services," Dr. Aronson said. He urged society members to create a favorable climate in the general public for community health planning.

Dr. Aronson praised the society for its increase in Christmas Seal sales to 52,180 last year — an increase of 6,375 over the previous year. C. Norman Detweiler, a retired newspaper editor from Quakertown and first vice president of the society, presided at the meeting.

Elected to the board of directors by the membership were Dr. Edmund T. Carroll, Levittown; Richard L. Currier, Yardley; Dr. Gerold J. Effinger, Pennell; Dr. Barry M. Fishman, Doylestown; Dr. Nelson H. Kline, Perkasie; Dr. Murray J. Miller, Quakertown; Mrs. William E. Monteith, Doylestown; Earle Sinkler, Warminster; and Mrs. John A. Tomlinson, Levittown, all for two-year terms.

Re-elected to new two-year terms were Dr. Richard I. Darnell, New Hope; Dr. Robert A. Gould, Morrisville; James A. Moran, Doylestown; Dr. Donald J. Ottenberg, Philadelphia; Dr. John A. Prickett, Warrington; Miss Helen B. Ruff, R.N., Chalfont; Dr. A. J. Strathie, Newtown; and Mrs. Harriet M. Wentworth, New Hope. Mrs. Janice E. Rodriguez, Levittown, headed the nominating committee.

Crowd On Hand For Fair Opening

Within minutes after the gates were open at the subway and railroad entrance to the N. Y. World's Fair this morning, this crowd was on hand to enjoy opening day. (UPI Telephoto)

Ribbon-Cutting, Balloons, Gun Salute Open Fair

NEW YORK (UPI)—A ribbon was cut, 500 balloons were lofted and ancient Swiss cannons boomed a salute signaling the start of the 1965 version of the New York World's Fair.

A crowd estimated at about 2,000 persons, the vanguard of more than a quarter-million expected during the opening day, were on hand when James J. O'Brien, deputy commissioner of public events for New York City who was dressed as "Father Knickerbocker," snipped a ribbon signaling start of the billion dollar extravaganza's second six-month season.

Then Miss Swiss Watch Movement, pretty Christina Schupbach of Zurich, received a time signal from the atomic clock at Neuchatel observatory in Switzerland and sent aloft 500 balloons. Each contained a free ticket to the fair.

A huge fireworks display and a parade headed by fair president Robert Moses were other highlights of opening day ceremonies.

A vague threat by the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) to stage opening day civil rights demonstrations failed to materialize during the early hours of opening.

Eighteen bands, 4,000 marchers and 31 floats highlighted the opening parade, followed by a massive multi-colored fireworks show at 11 a.m. with Moses as master of ceremonies.

Fair President Moses had predicted 7.5 million paying customers will attend the fair during this season. Moses was full of optimism Tuesday over the 1965 prospects.

The Fair plunges $17.5 million into the red last year. The total turnout was about 27 million, 10 million below expectations.

To offset the possibility of losses this year, the admission price for adults was increased to $2.50, up 50 cents. Childrens eickets remain at $1.

The Rev. James Conroy, chaplain at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, said: "The kids were all in the hallway, either sitting on chairs or lying on litters. They were terrific. They were

Detectives Ask Why

Mother, 28, Strangles Four Children

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—Detectives today sought a motive in the case of a young mother accused of strangling her four children, then attempted suicide.

The case unfolded yesterday after playmates said they hadn't seen Marcia Hamby, 6, her brother, Mark, 7, and the 2-year-old Hamby twins, Kelly and Kraig, all day.

The Maggio children next door wondered. Mrs. Frank P. Maggio also wondered where the mother, Mrs. Deanna Hamby, was. No one had seen them all day.

In the nearby town of Mishawaka, Ind., Mrs. Louise Boyer also worried. She had a dinner date with Mrs. Hamby Tuesday night but couldn't get an answer at the Hamby home by telephone.

Finally Mrs. Hamby answered the phone.

"I killed my children," she said.

Mother In Hospital

Today, the 28-year-old housewife was under heavy guard at Memorial Hospital. She had tried suicide after strangling

Marcia, Mark, Kelly and Kraig, according to police.

Mrs. Boyer and a companion rushed to the Hamby home, broke in and found the four bodies on a bedroom floor. Nearby lay the mother, her wrists and ankles slashed and a necktie around her throat.

Smoke rose from two of the mattresses where fires had been set.

"Let me die," the housewife told attendants at the hospital. "Let me die."

Husband Flies Home

Edward Hamby, 30, the husband and father of the children, learned of the tragedy while on a business trip for Associates Investment Co. He flew home in a company plane.

Dr. F. Dale Nelson, deputy coroner, said the children had been dead about six hours before they were discovered.

Three had been garroted with nylon stockings, the fourth was strangled with a necktie.

Today detectives sought to answer the simple question: Why?

"There was absolutely no indication of anything wrong," said one police officer.

"There was no sign that anything was bothering her," said Mrs. Maggio.

A menorah from an ancient synagogue, stones from a Crusader's castle, a piece of Greek sculpture, a Stone Age sickle—these are among the objects unearthed. Each is a key to yet another episode in the historical narrative, which includes stories of Saracen days, of the rise of Christianity, of the Greek and Roman occupations, and of the wanderings of primitive Near Eastern tribes.

Tank Piping Job Starts

Having received the green light from the Falls Township Zoning Board of Adjustment, the Lower Bucks County Joint Municipal Authority is installing piping for its new 1,000,000-gallon water storage tank.

At last night's authority meeting, Paul X. Blattler, managing engineer, reported that steel for the $204,000 tank is expected to arrive shortly.

Last week, the Falls zoning board approved erection of the 100-foot water tower after the authority agreed to meet certain conditions, including the erection of a six-foot-high cyclone fence around the tank off Newportville — Fallsington in the Vermilion Hill section of Levittown.

Blattler also disclosed that one multi-media filter has been completed and is now in operation at the water filtration plant. The filter is one of eight being converted by the authority to increase the filtration plant's capacity from eight million to 12 million gallons daily.

Blattler reported to the sewer committee, James Alchele and Albert Feehly, that plans for improvement of the sewage treatment plant are now being processed by the State Health Department in order that they may be considered for federal grants to aid construction.

Area residents will be given additional weekday service on "Operation Levittown" with the extension of two evening trains effective Monday.

Outbound train No. 546, which formerly ended at Bristol, will be extended to Trenton and include all station stops except Eddington and Morrisville. It leaves Suburban Station, Philadelphia, at 5:20 p.m. and arrives at Levittown at 6:04 and at Trenton at 6:10 p.m.

Inbound riders will have the advantage of train No. 547, which formerly started at Ho'smesburg Junction, but will begin under the new schedule at Trenton at 6:38 p.m., making all stops except Morrisville, Eddington and Andalusia. It will arrive at Suburban Station at 7:23 p.m.

No Extra Cost

The added service is being provided Mondays through Fridays by the Pennsylvania Railroad at no extra cost to the Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Company.

Steel Strike Threat Looms Over Pay Hike Difference

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The threat of a May 1 steel strike increased today because of a 1.2 per cent difference of opinion on wage increase guidelines.

The Wage Policy Committee of the United Steelworkers Union (USW), summoned to meet here Thursday, probably will be asked to authorize a strike, observers said.

Only last-minute give and take by union and industry negotiators was seen as a means of heading off a strike.

The union was reported standing firm and solidified on its latest proposal—a pay hike of 17.9 cents an hour in a one-year contract — which USW sources said fell within the government's recommended 3.2 per cent wage increase.

Bargainers for the nation's "big 11" steel companies were said to be just as determined to hold to a "2 per cent top" wage boost. The difference amounted to about 9 cents an hour.

The next move appeared to rest with the industry.

Turn For Worse

Contract talks took a turn for the worst earlier this week after the union proposed its one-year contract offer. The companies reportedly balked, but the principals made no announcement and usually reliable sources said they had heard no word on it.

"We stand ready to negotiate at any time," said R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator. "I wouldn't discount chances of a meeting anytime, anywhere."

The union's negotiating team went into separate session this morning, headed by USW President David J. McDonald and Secretary-Treasurer I. W. Abel. Neither man had any comment.

Union Closes Ranks

Despite the bitter and still unresolved presidential election between McDonald and Abel, a high source said the union now has closed ranks. He attributed the change to the management's rock-ribbed stand in contract talks.

If a strike should come, it would be the first industry-wide walkout by the USW since the record 116-day tieup six years ago.

Iron Age, a trade magazine, said in a special release that the industry Tuesday had "flatly rejected" the union proposal as too expensive. Union and industry negotiators had no comment on the report.

A high union source said Tuesday night that McDonald and Abel were "not able to ascertain industry's position" at a brief meeting Tuesday with Cooper and Lary.

The current three-year agreement between the USW and 11 major steel companies expires at midnight April 30.

By ED GLOWKA

Stories of people's willingness to get involved in the happenings of others, particularly when they are in danger or trouble, have become numerous lately.

A recent example of people's willingness to become involved happened just this past week, when a canoeing accident tossed four young men into the swift waters of the Delaware River.

Throughout the entire story, from the first warning until this instant, there is documented evidence — clear cut examples — of this willingness.

The first example is the bridge guard who shouted a warning to the four boys that the water was too swift and to get back to shore.

The warning wasn't heeded. The water was too swift and a moment later the canoe capsized and four young men found themselves swimming for their lives.

Several younger boys, fishing along the Morrisville banks of the river, spotted the tragedy and without waiting to see what happened, or standing idly by, relayed the alarm to Morrisville police.

Almost before the three boys were on shore, rescue teams from Morrisville and Trenton were speeding to the scene.

It has been asked why several of the fishermen in boats nearby didn't come to their aid. One of them told rescuers they would have, but by the time it was discovered, the three youths were on shore.

Another fisherman, a young man himself, leaped into the water to help the three boys. Other fishermen immediately began looking for the lost lad — even before the rescued trio was in the hospital.

Another example of the willingness of people to help persons in distress, came when the three youths were taken into the dispensary of a nearby industrial plant, given first aid and wrapped in warm blankets.

By this time, rescue squads from Trenton joined in the search for the missing boy. Before long rescue squads from up and down the river were on hand. Many of these men have full-time jobs, some of them lost days from work, not to mention pay to lend a hand.

In the hospital all the facilities of a great medical institution were brought into focus to render the three lads the best attention they could get.

The search still goes on. After five days there are still rescue teams searching the river looking for the missing youth.

They haven't given up, nor have they been reluctant to work long and hard hours in the search. One rescue squad member told reporters, at the height of the search, "we will keep looking until we find him."

2 Boys Admit Setting Fires

Bristol Township police yesterday picked up two juvenile boys who have admitted to setting house fires on Beechtree and Bittersweet Roads in the Blue Ridge section of Levittown.

The boys have been released in the custody of their parents, pending further action by juvenile authorities.

No Extra Cost

The added service is being provided Mondays through Fridays by the Pennsylvania Railroad at no extra cost to the Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Company.

(SEPACT), which requested the extensions to benefit residents of Lower Bucks County. SEPACT, composed of Bucks, Chester and Montgomery Counties and the City of Philadelphia, has been sponsoring "Operation Levittown" as part of a program of improved service at reduced fares in cooperation with the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency since December 1962.

Train No. 546 will provide an added peak-hour outbound train for Levittown and Trenton commuters while inbound train No. 547 offers a new, early evening train for patrons at Trenton, Levittown, Bristol, Croydon, Cornwells Heights and Torresdale Stations.

SEPACT officials said patrons of "Operation Levittown" should obtain new timetables to check minor adjustments made in departure and arrival times on several other trains serving the line. All changes become effective Sunday with the change to Daylight Saving Time.

The acquisition of the two apartments was achieved through the purchase of all stock in the owning corporations.

Samuel Blackman was the broker representing Morris Gross and the late Bernard Weinberg in the Morrisville transaction. Morris Powers of Burton Realty Co., Philadelphia represented the investment group in both transactions.

Police Plan Teen Dances

Bristol Township police, in a move to curb juvenile delinquency, are going to sponsor weekly teenage dance hops.

The first police-supervised dance, under the sponsorship of the Bristol Township Police-man's Benevolent Association, will be held Friday night, from 8 to 11 o'clock, at the Edgely Fire House, Edgely Ave.

The PBA, in addition to recorded music, will have guest stars and disc jockeys appearing each Friday night.

This week's live talent includes Gary Thornton and the Flip Flops and Cameo Record's latest "Find," Billy Horner.

School Pupils Help Build River Levees

CLINTON, Iowa, (AP) — Grownups who have been battling angry floods in the Midwest for nearly a month are quick to give credit for the help of school children.

If the youngsters sometimes seem to get underfoot filling and hauling sandbags it can be laid to eagerness. But officials concede that without their help many a levee couldn't have been raised in time.

Among the thousands of high school and junior high pupils who have enlisted in the fight against the Mississippi River were the children on the job here Tuesday.

Fifteen of nearly 1,300 who had been excused from school for the day were at the spot where sandbags had been placed on top of a cinder block wall behind the Clinton baseball stadium.

A section of the wall collapsed without warning and 15 boys and girls were injured.

Danny Waters, 12, and Barbara Hodges, 16, with leg fractures; and Tim Leonard, 13, with back injuries, were hospitalized. The others were treated for cuts and bruises and released.

The Rev. James Conroy, chaplain at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, said: "The kids were all in the hallway, either sitting on chairs or lying on litters. They were terrific. They were trying to comfort each other and keep their spirits up."

Some of the youngsters were on Easter vacation but not those at Clinton High School. School Supt. R.T. Grau said before the accident that those excused for work on the flood project had to bring written consent from their parents.

Gov. Harold Hughes was in the area conferring with officials on steps taken to hold back the river. He saw school children at work with their elders.

"People are quick to criticize our kids," he said. "Here on the river they have worked longer and harder than some of the adults. They deserve a lot of credit."

In Clinton, all school absences were canceled today. City authorities said there was no further need for student volunteers.

At N.J. Theater

Slain Suspect Linked To Thefts

Earnest Emplit, 25-year-old Levittown burglary suspect who died two days after being shot by Bristol Township police in an attempted burglary, has been linked with two theater thefts in Willingboro, N. J.

Willingboro Police Chief Marshal S. Roser today disclosed that he had certain "evidentiary material" which, he said, proved Emplit was guilty of burglaries at the Fox Theater in the Levittown Plaza on Feb. 11 and 12.

Emplit died of four bullet wounds in Lower Bucks County Hospital on March 6.

Bristol Township police, at the time, reported that Emplit had a 10-year police record which included convictions for burglaries, larceny and assault and battery with a deadly weapon.

Undercover Man

Roser said more than $300 was taken from the theater on Feb. 11 and an undetermined amount of money was stolen from vending machines the following day.

Emplit was shot by a rookie police officer, who had been posing as an undercover man during two months' investigation of a burglary ring. The shooting took place the night of March 4 when Emplit was caught inside Bucks County Pharmacy on Newportville-Fallsington Road, Levittown.

Yesterday afternoon, a neighborhood discussion between Mrs. Walter Maddocks of 37 Good Rock Road, Goldenridge, and Mrs. Edward Lachowicz of 43 Good Rock Road, wound up with Mr. Lachowicz being arrested for allegedly hitting his neighbor over the head with a garden rake.

Mrs. Maddocks, who went to Lower Bucks County Hospital where three stitches were required to close a gash in her head, told Bristol Township police she was struck by Lachowicz.

Mrs. Maddox told Bristol Township police Lachowicz spat in her face and slapped her face. Mrs. Maddocks said she was holding a garden rake in front of herself for protection. She said Lachowicz grabbed the rake and hit her over the head with it.

Lachowicz, who was arraigned on a charge of aggravated assault and battery, denies the allegation. He has been released in $500 bail for a hearing at 8:30 p.m. Friday before Justice of the Peace Rene J. Tritschler.

Yacht Club Vandals Sought

Bristol Township police and fire officials are looking for vandals who broke into the Paterson Parchment Paper Company Yacht Club along the Delaware River, off Radcliffe St., Edgely, Monday night.

It had been inadvertently reported in yesterday's Courier-Times that the blaze was at the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge.

Vincent Latronica, Bristol Township fire marshal, reported $75 damage to a couch and chair which had been set afire in the Paterson firm's yacht club. The fire was put out by Edgely Fire Co. No. 1 under the direction of Chief Jerry Barner.

The vandals entered by ripping off a screen and breaking a glass window, police reported.

Backs Local Slate

L. M'field GOP Group Asks Changes In Zoning Code

By ED GLOWKA
Courier-Times Staff Writer

The Lower Makefield Township Republican Good Government Committee last night demanded that the township planning board take action to correct irregularities in the zoning code.

James Logan, temporary chairman of the newly formed group, said the committee joined with citizens in demanding these corrections.

The question of the irregularities arose this past month, with charges that an alleged deal has been made by the township's board of supervisors and the sewer authority, with Charles Metz Jr., to grant him building permits without proper zoning and subdivision approval.

Prompted Formation
The deal allegedly was made to prevent a suit by Metz son, Charles Metz III, against the sewer authority.

The charges prompted the formation of the new "good government committee" Logan said. At last night's meeting the committee introduced a slate of candidates for the republican nomination in the May 18 primary election.

Candidates
The three candidates are Fred P. VanOrden and William J. Johnson, candidates for election to the new five-member board of supervisors and Mrs. Florine S. Purdy, candidate for tax collector.

In his introductory remarks, Logan outlined the committee's election stand and stated the committee believes it is presenting a group of "honest, independent-thinking candidates."

Logan challenged the Democrats in the township to "stop maligning the township government and come forward with a positive program."

Logan emphasized the committee is only interested in local township government and "has not — nor has any intention of — supporting any candidates on the county level."

He stated the committee "is not in conflict with the Lower Makefield Republican Club. The club has a policy of not endorsing Republican Primary candidates," he said.

"Being an action committee, with a long-view objective of ensuring promotion of the best interests of our township, we have taken the initial stand of backing the non-aligned candidates in this primary election," Logan said.

To Resign
Van Orden, president of his own engineering company, and a member of the township school board, announced his decision to resign from the school board, because of his candidacy.

He said "contrary to the belief that bigness makes for efficiency, I am for small 'pay-as-you-go' local government. I will not allow the Democrats to do away with township governments and I urge residents to make their desires known. If they do not, we cannot maintain responsive good government."

56 Years
Johnson, a resident of Bucks County for 56 years, concurred with VanOrden's position and added, "I am always careful in spending my money I will be extremely careful in spending other people's money."

Johnson, who noted he has lived in the Makefield area for 40 years, said he wants to become a supervisor "to serve all residents of the community, not just a few."

Mrs. Purdy, who is financial examiner for the Eastern State School and Hospital for Emotionally Disturbed Children, stated she would "direct herself to reducing administrative costs in the tax office," if she is elected.

In Question
At the close of the meeting, T. Sidney Cadwallader, speaking from the floor, said, "the legality of the issuance of building permits to Metz appears to be in question."

If Metz is granted the building permits, Cadwallader said, he would institute a suit to enjoin the board's action.

Logan then stated the committee joined Cadwallader in demanding the alleged irregularities in the zoning laws be amended.

Yardley Man In Air Force Rescue Work

IGNACIO, Calif. — Airman First Class Bruce B. Willever, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce B. Willever of 121 N. Main St., Yardley, was one of more than 500 U.S. Air Force Air Rescue Service men deployed around the world in support of the Gemini two-man space flight from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

Airman Willever, permanently assigned as a para-SCUBA rescue specialist at Hamilton AFB, Calif., was part of the force stationed at airborne and land base positions along the orbital path. He was there to assist in the all-important task of recovering the two astronauts and their Gemini capsule.

A graduate of Bishop Egan High School, Levittown, Pa., the airman attended East Stroudsburg State College. His wife, Patricia, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Livezey of 1154 N. Almonesson Road, Deptford, N.J.

M'field GOP Plans Seminar
The Lower Makefield Township Republican Club will hold an executive board meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the township hall to make plans for a sewer seminar next week.

Richard Marshall, president, said the executive board will meet with some area residents who have been asked to assist in the planning session.

Marshall said no firm date has been set as yet, but it is planned that the seminar will answer residents' questions about the sewer installation work and the authority.

He said members of the authority, township supervisors and the township manager, Joseph Zainea, will attend the seminar.

"Ten Bar Rooms in One Night" is the theme of the Gay Nineties Revue to be given this weekend by the Holy Trinity Church Vaudeville Club in the school auditorium, Osborne and Stackham Ave., Morrisville. The Players, Dick Carr, John Leonard, Rita Nekoranik, John Emilie, Adam Hornung Jr., and Judy Hughes, (left to right) get into the spirit of the era during a dress rehearsal last night. The show will be given Saturday at 2 p.m. and again Sunday at 8 p.m. The revue is directed by Donald Schnoor, assisted by Mrs. Frank O'Day. Rev. Robert Grudowski, advisor to the troupe, said proceeds from the two performances will be donated to the school building fund. (Courier - Times Photo)

Yardley To Draw Up New Plumbing Code

Yardley Borough may soon have a new plumbing code.

Mayor Henry M. O'Brien said today that the ordinance committee was recently directed by the borough council to prepare a code for the borough.

"There is none as such now," O'Brien said, "but we do have various stipulations in our health code which applies to plumbers."

New Code
He said the ordinance committee would coordinate the present laws with the needs of the borough and draw up a completely new code.

In other matters at the recent council meeting, the borough fathers —

Reported it has under study the hiring of a third policeman in the borough. Action is expected to be taken at the next meeting on May 17 and the hiring of a new policeman might put the police posts under Civil Service status, O'Brien said.

Police Car
—Authorized the borough solicitor to advertise for bids for a new police car.

—Raised the maximum fine for disorderly conduct from $25 to $100. O'Brien said many other local townships and boroughs had already done this.

—Authorized Borough Engineer Joseph Parks to prepare plans for re-paving Ferry St., which will not be involved in the current sewer construction project.

Excess Fill
—Announced that Parks will also coordinate requests from residents for obtaining fill dirt removed in the sewer excavations. The borough will require persons seeking the excess fill to sign a release from the tax collector.

—Announced that Clean - Up, Fix-Up, Paint-Up Week will be held in the borough from May 10-21. O'Brien said there will be a special collection for trash on two Mondays, May 10-17. Councilman Karl Rembe is chairman of the paint up week activities.

The most beautiful Volkswagen made.

Volkswagen's Karmann Ghia has a body that's been made in an old-fashioned custom way. Slowly. Meticulously. Thoroughly.

It has hand-shaped, hand-welded, hand-smoothed fenders and door frames and hoods. It has hand-stitched, hand-padded, hand-fitted seats and convertible tops. It has a four-coats-deep hand-painted and hand-sanded finish.

But the Karmann Ghia's beauty is more than skin deep. It has the VW torsion bar suspension system on all four wheels. So you ride comfortably; without bouncing or sliding in your seat. It has the VW synchromesh shift on all four gears. So you shift easily and smoothly. (You can even shift down from second to first without stopping. A terrific advantage in traffic.)

And, of course, it has the machined-by-hand VW engine. So it gets that beautiful VW mileage: about 32 miles on a gallon of regular gas. It's air-cooled, too. It can't boil over or freeze up!

Most people refer to this car as a "Ghia." But we won't be hurt if you call it:

"The most beautiful Volkswagen made."
